NEW ROLE--NOT TELLING € TRUTH! MANY YEARS AGO, WHEN I WAS AN apprentice in '47 and '48, we ship hops used to go Coon bunting down on the Son h Beauch of the Baritan River, near Cuit's Mills, New Jersey, he one night we tracked an old Com to a 1-rge Synamure or Buttonwood tree, we found where the old Com went in. The hole was about one han where the old Coon went in. The hole was about one han dred and swenty feet from the ground. "Hold on Rose, cannot you take off a few inches of that." No. I don't think I can unless that Carriage Maker that established a Carriage Shop in Eighteen Hundred and Sany-five in Honolula, if he comes down four or five years. I then will drop from four to five feet. At any rate the hole was so high that none of us boys could get to it. We called on the owner of the tree and he would not allow the tree to be cut. We heard the story, and our blood was street. So we mustered a party of about fifteen of the best of Us boys and went for the old Coon. We were bound to have him anyhow. None of us boys could climb up to the hole, so we were purpled what to do, finally we climb up to the hole, so we were purpled what to do, finally we gezed out the hole where the old Coon was, so high up in the great tree, and we not having the grinning capacity of the renowned David Crockett or the musical powers to charm, we resorted to strategy Yes, as Ariemus Ward would say, strategy my boys. Three beys were dispatched for a large bottle of petrol-um oil. "Hold on Loke, we had no petroleum them days." I mean they went for a large bottle of Turpentime and five horse went for the inverse manner of the control of the redoubtle of him by the Chief Clerk of the Department who said the amount was drawn about the time of His Majesty's departure on his tour. The amount was drawn by a certain individual, his receipt is there, and that is all the tine, and five boys went for the largest poles to attach togethet to reach the hole. The battle of tarpentine was hung to the end of the pole, and then relied up to the hole, and thrust parily into it, we then took a shot gan and shot the bottle to pieces, the contents ran down into the tree, but no Coon appeared, we then attached a lighted torch and raised it to the hole,

Then came a bust of thundering sound, That Coop, Oh, where was he? Ask of the fi-mes that leaped around That hole, in the old B stronwood tree. He came tearing out with a bound, At one awful leap, he reached the ground, And found himself in KUSE's SHOP, where Mamaiian Legislature.

Twenty-seventh Day Continued. Hon. Mr. Keau moved to amend by adding the words "and for no other purpose."

His Excellency the Premier, stated that while on the Committee of Finance he had endeavored to find out for what purpose the $6,000 had been spent, but all he was enabled to learn was that it had not been used for the purpose for which it was appropriated. The Coronation of His Majesty was intended to do honor to the King and to promote a national sentiment amongst Hawaiians, and if the money was appropriated for the purpose by the Assembly the present Ministry would not divert the appropriation from the object intended.

Hon. Mr. Kaulukou spoke in favor of the item and Hon. Mr. Nawahi against, the latter Honorable gentleman saying that he would not object so much if he could only find out what had become of the $6,000 expended. He had endeavored to obtain some information, and all he could his tour. The amount was drawn by a certain Expenses Incidentals to Legation at individual, his receipt is there, and that is all the information conveyed.

Hon, J. Mott Smith, said that he rose with considerable diffidence to speak on the subject, but it was a matter to which he had given considerable thought, and he deplored the attempt to introduce this ceremony of coronation, as an innovation upon Hawaiian manners and customs being new to Hawaiian history and to Hawaiian sentiment. His Majesty has been a ruler of the Kingdom for eight years and not until the last Session was this project of coronation broached. The Hon. Noble said further that he had not approved of the measure, at the last Session of the Assembly nor did he approve of it now. Nice Carriages He considered the ceremony of coronation, the engrafting of foreign custo as into those of the hawaiian nation and only the initiative step toward a further departure from the customs and ways of the nation, and would not advance the

ROSE IS BUILDING! love of the Hawaiians for their Sovereign. The Hon. Noble did not think that this item of $10,000 told the whole story, this item was a mere bagatelle to what would be required to entertain the foreign potentates who would probably be present at the coronation. The succeeding item of $20,000 for the entertainment of foreign representatives would be insufficient to meet the expenses of entertaining even one prince and his retinue should such be present at the ceremo-

At this hour a recess was taken by the Committee until 2 p.m.

AFTERNOON. On the Committee re-assembling the Honorable Noble Smith, again took the floor and continued his argument against the Coronation item, and in closing he desired to state that he spoke not against the dignity or authority of His fajesty, but against a measure which he thought njurious to the best interests of the nation. He warned the members of the Assembly from being moved by the arguments of His Excellency the Minister of Foreign Affairs, whom, he understood was to reply to his remarks, and he hoped that the "silver tongue and persuasive words" of His Excellency would not induce the members to allow the passage of the item.

His Excellency the Minister of Foreign Affairs eplied to the Hon. Noble Smith, saying that he had been supposing a great many improbable difficulties and setting up a great many men of straw simply to be knocked down. (Applause.) He speaks to us of the danger of going in-to debt; yet he would persuade us to obtain half a million dollars to bring Portuguese to this country. (Laughter and applause.) do not suppose that the Hon. Noble would object if an an expensive commission was sent rom this country to Washington to take care of the Reciprocity Treaty. He hardly considered the Hon. Noble was as much afraid of indebtedness as he states, inasmuch as the Legislature of 1872 authorized a loan of $250,000 and he was a member of the Government at the time. With regard to a remark made by the Hon. Noble Bishop and repeated by the Hon. Noble who has just closed, referring to the coronation as being an entirely new matter, new to Hawaiians, he begged to say to the Assembly that the "poni," or ceremonial of installation of a chief was practiced in ancient times. * * * Both of the Hon, Nobles take simply an utilitarian view of the ceremony of coronation, and regard the symbols accompanying such a eremony as valueless, and as mere baubles. And when the Hon. Nobles put round their necks collars, and place on their breasts insignia, that are symbols of decorations and honors bestowed by the Sovereign, do they regard them as valueless, and mere baubles? Is there no value in symbols? What would be the marriage ceremony without the symbol of the gold ring? So with the coronation of a great chief, the ceremony should be solemnised with the appropriate symbols and surroundings. The Hon. Noble says that the ceremony of the coronation is but an idle one, and adds naught to the dignity of the King or the interests of the people. Would he not perhaps say of His Majesty's travel abroad that it was an idle parade. WE HAVE RECENTLY OPENED THE Was His Majesty's visit to Washington, to meet and mingle with the dignitaries of the Great Republic of America, an idle ceremony? Did it not help to make these Honorable Nobles rich? [Hon. Mr. Bishop: "No."] But if it has not made you rich, it has made you extremely anxious to maintain the political measure brought about by the presence of the King, But I say the ceremony is (?) not a new feature. In former times the Kings of Hawaii were satisfied with the simple ceremonial of an oath in a palace or a church. But under what circumstances did King Kalakaua have the oath administered on his accession? Was it not surrounded with difficulty and danger? He did not take it in a Palace or in a And executed in a thorough, e mpetent and workmanlika church, but on the steps of a small building, without proper support and surroundings. Our without proper support and surroundings. Our King has since been round the world, and honored by the crowned heads of the older countries, and shall not be properly installed and crowned? His Excellency said that this question was not of dollars and cents, or of profit and loss, but inspired by a noble and was appointed to fill the vacancy. The considhonorable sentiment-that of love of Hawaiians | eration of the Tax Bill was continued. for their sovereign chief. The Hon. Noble speaks of a coronation as a religious ceremonial, and that His Majesty could not call upon a BATHS, WATER CLOSETS, WASH BOWLS, Etc., Catholic or an Anglican Bishop, or a Congregacellency was not apprehensive of difficulty on gave the casting vote in favor of "striking out, that score. As David was crowned by the and for the second time on the same day the Sec might appropriately perform this ceremony; and if not, we had a Chancellor, a President of the Assembly, and many Nobles qualified to perform the ceremony; or His Majesty might dace the crown upon his own head. The Hon. Noble inquires-who will be present? His Excellency doubted not there would be present at the ceremony all the estates of the realm, the A Very Pleasant and Roomy Cottage Nobles and Representatives; and, above, above all, the Hawaiian People; and he hoped, for one, to be there, and assist in the ceremonial of crowning His Majesty King Kalakaua. (Frequent applause.) Hon., Mr. Pilipo and Hon. Mr. Rice spoke against the item, and Hons, Palohau and Kauai in favor, and on the call for the question Hon. J. Keau moved that the ayes and nays be taken. Carried, and the following shows the result :-Ayes-Their Excellencies W. M. Gibson, S. K. Kaai, J. E. Bush, and E. Preston; Hons. P. Kanoa, J. O. Dominis, J. P. Parker, H. Kuihelani, J. Moanauli, G. The items, "Salary of the Minister plenipotentary" " Expenses legation at Washington, caused some little argument between Hon. TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY. THURSDAY, June 8, 1882, House met at usual hour. Prayer by Chaplain and reading of minutes by Secretary. Two petitions were presented.

From Standing Committees the only report presented was by Hon. G. W. Pilipo, from the Sanitary Committee, and relating to : 1. A petition from Honolulu praying that Dr. Fitch be appointed Government physician at a biennial salary of $10,000, signed by 243 Ha-watians. The Committee recommended that the President of the Board of Health accede to the prayer of the petitioners.

2. A petition from Makawao, praying that all present Government physicians be discharged and only one employed and that one Dr. Fitch. This petition the Committee recommended to be referred to the Board of Health. 3. Petition from Makawao, praying that Dr. Carriages, Buggies, Fitch be sent to Kalawao to cure the lepers there; Committee also recommended this to be referred to the Board of Health. 4. Petition from Kalawao, asking for a change in the law relating to the sending of the lepers to Molokai and that hospitals be established on the different islands for the care of lepers; the Committee recommended that the petition be referred back to the presentor and that he present instead a Bill on the subject. The report of the Committee was received a majority report and laid on the table until the presentation of a minority report. Hon. Mr. Kaunamano, from the Select Committee, to whom was referred a Bill relating to the amendment of Section 2, Chapter 35 of the Penal Code, relating to the observance of the Sabbath, reported back a new Bill, which was read for the first time and ordered to second reading in proper order.

Hon, Mr. Kaunamano, read by permission for the first time a Bill relating to the genealogy of Hawaiian chiefs and authorizing the Minister of the Interior to expend certain amounts in obtaining desired information. Ordered to second Hon. Mr. Mahoe read a Bill for the first time. tions 64, 65 and 66 of the Civil Code. Ordered to second reading.

Hon. Mr. Kaunamano, introduced a resolution that the sum of $15,000 be inserted in the Appropriation Bill for the improvement of the landing at Honokaa, Hawaii, and for the purpose of sinking artesian wells in that District. The resolution concluded by requesting that the Minister of the Interior be directed to visit the District of Honokaa immediately upon the commencement of his tour of the Islands. His Excellency the Minister of the Interior said that he was willing to assist the interests of the different districts, but he could not very well divide himself, and he was already ordered to visit Kauai first. He disclaimed being an expert ocator of artesian wells, and hoped that the Hon, member would withdraw the latter portion of the resolution. Hon, Mr. Kaunamano accepted the suggestion of His Excellency and withdrew the objectionable portion, and the resolution was then laid on the table to be taken up in the discussion of the Appropriation Bill. Hon. Mr. Brown presented a resolution that the Sergeant-at-Arms be instructed to supply the Assembly rooms with two water filters and twenty pounds of ice daily. Approved. Hon, Mr. Kean gave notice of intention to introduce a Bill to amend Article 74 of the Con-The Tax Bill-was now taken up, and the Asembly resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole, Hon. S. G. Wilder in the chair, and proseeded to discuss the 11th Section, relating to a tax of one-tenth of one per cent, on all real estate; for the benefit of roads.

His Excellency the Attorney-General moved that the Section be passed as printed. Hon. Mr. Mahoe moved to strike out, as the item looked like double taxation. A lengthy discussion ensued taken part in in favor of the item by Hons. Preston, Kanhane, and Lilikalani, and against by Hons. Palohau, Kauai, Pilipo, Nawahi and Bishop. When put to vote the Ayes and Nays were called for upon the question to "strike out," and the motion was carried by a vote of 25 ayes to The Committee then took a recess until 1:30
